

July 2018

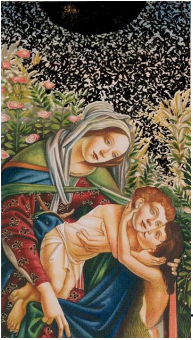

The Ace of Pentacles is first of all the money card, so extra money from totally unexpected sources are on your way! It may be the fact that somebody surprises you with some pocket money, or perhaps you just come across some money you forgot about... Lucky you! This may coincide with Jupiter entering Scorpio on the 10th July and bringing financial opportunities. As you are in better finances, you may enjoy buying some new assets. For those waiting for the banks to loosen up criteria in regards to mortgages, now is the perfect time! If you already set your eyes on a property, go for it! If a new car smiles to you, smile back to it and bring it home! Today is the day!

On the other hand, the Ace of Pentacles indicates new opportunities of generating money. If you are self-employed expect a busy second part of July filled in with new contracts to be signed. If you are employed, you may be surprised with a job offer coming from the competition. If they advertised a new position, send your CV in. Money, money and more money coming your way in the last week of July too! You may want to look to investments because they will bring you even more pennies!

If you are single, your twin soul is just in front of you...at work! Once you realize that dating this beautiful soul is an option, things will develop fast! For those already in committed relationships, no hiccups in July! In health, the Ace of Pentacles tells you that now is a good time to start a new fitness regime, diet or health habit. Ask yourself how much is too much when it's about health, so sign up today with that flash gym or shop at the organic isle in the supermarket.

The Pentacles are Earth elements, guys. The only downfall may be the fact that an excess of Earth element results in too much rigidity and a fear of taking risks due to a love of the material side of life! So live today in a spectacular way!

August 2018

The Sun card indicates that you may shine forth brilliantly.... the whole August. So enjoy the praises you may get!

If you are in the search for love, be confident that your twin soul is in the search for you and...that your paths may even cross especially after 7th August when Uranus moves backwards.

At work, you may have your very personal moment of glory... and rewards may be following! Remember that the Sun card symbolizes success, glory and abundance, thus all these are on your way in August! Therefore, your health is brilliant and you may feel over energized and invigorated when performing those bench presses at your local gym.

If you had a surgery lately, recovery is faster than expected. Shine, shine, shine! My only observation is that the Sun relates to your Solar Plexus chakra, which is the core for your ego. So, watch that overconfidence!

September 2018

September will unfold beautifully if...and only if...you listen to your intuition that is louder than usual. If you work in an artistic field , you may find your muse and, once in the mojo, you may create a masterpiece. If you however always wanted to start a creative hobby, whichever that may be, why not doing the first step today? Your hidden talent may come into light before the 6th September when Saturn turns direct in Capricorn.

For those in a platonic relationship, emotions may make it in the physical world. If you want to break free from a committed relationship do it just before the 30th September, when Pluto turns direct in Capricorn.

If you are in the process of changing jobs, the High Priestess assures you that soon...very soon... your dream job would be available...and remember how ready you are to grab it! For those employed gossips and rumors were lately in the spotlight. Don't worry too much. Things will get better after mid September if you stay aside and don't contribute to mixing the facts. The High Priestess is related to the magical and mysterious Moon. Therefore expect to remember today things you though you long forgotten....maybe even where you placed your grandma's ring or memories about your ex you wanted badly to ignore.

You may daydream for the whole month, but not all dreams are just illusions! The High Priestess connects to the Third Eye Chakra , thus desire to understand your inner truth is stronger than ever. In health, neck and back pain may be the only hiccup of the day.

October 2018

The Empress indicates that you are well take care off and you will have everything you desire in October. Even if not all things are perfect at the moment, this card tells you that all aspects in your life will be significantly better...very, very soon!

Good month for couples, especially because your partner finds you more attractive than ever. The Empress is a good omen for those trying to have a baby....so, no matter what your circumstances are, wanting to conceive naturally or adopting, do it before the 31st October, when Venus turn retrograde in Libra!

An even better month at work, where your colleges and even your boss start listening to your ideas. The Empress brings good financial karma; therefore you may want to look into investing some money. Improvements in your home are advised, so start decorating! October is a blessed month, when you feel nurtured, appreciated and loved. Remember to love back! You will for sure because the Empress is ruled by Venus, the Goddess of love, and associated with the Heart chakra.

November 2018

The Ten of Swords tells you that this is the time when there is nowhere to go but up! So be prepared for the ride upwards! The Ten of Swords assures you that the end of something is approaching and the new direction you will be heading comes with cutting some corners. Take a step back in the first week of October and evaluate your relationships, career and wellbeing! Whatever's not working... has to go! Remember that you are going upwards and the future is bright only if you get rid of what's not in accordance to your goals. If people made you hit a wall in the past, they don't need to be in your life anymore.

November is when you can decide to surround yourself with people who can keep the pace with you. If your current job became monotone and boring and rewards are less than nothing, remember that there is something better out there. In health, the Ten of Swords indicates that holistic and alternative therapies may work better for you....at least in November! So break the ties and get ready for the ride of your life! What a rollercoaster!

December 2018

The Magician card indicates that you have the power to make a difference, so be creative! Expect good news at work after the 6th December when Mercury turns direct in Scorpio. A promotion or even a small pay rise is on the horizon.

For those in committed relationships, life is good and your relationship may rise to a higher level of understanding, love and respect. If in the search for your twin soul, you may meet your special person....only if you put the effort in looking for her/ him.

The Magician assures you that your finances are about to increase in the third week of the month! An unexpected chance to make more money may help too! You may even start a small business now, when opportunities are so many! Amazing day for your health too, so keep eating right and exercising! If your doctor told you different, he may be wrong this time because it is the time of miracles!

Remember that the Magician is ruled by Mercury, the Messenger of gods...so put your wishes out there because they will all become true. This card is connected to the Palm chakra, which consists of 7 minor chakras, all stimulating communication and intuition. Therefore listen to your gut feeling and turn everything into gold today, when impossible is just about to become possible!
